Is it possible to be lonely when you have thousands of friends? The answer is yes. But there is always the family, the basic social body that defines and conforms us. However, in this technological world of being all together and at the same time alone, even the family nucleus is at risk. Computers, videogames and cell phones enter our homes, our loved ones and even in ourselves, and in an inoffensive and harmless manner can unintentionally transform our home into a cold, grey wasteland. Will the warmth of the present and the past confront the cold of the future?
Nose Theatre was founded in Granada in 2014 and is currently one of the most prominent companies of the Andalusian theatre scene. Its shows are multidisciplinary, engaged, social and creative, with a critical discourse as the common denominator, capable of addressing the great challenge of bringing theatre to the spectator of the 21st of century.
