The silent pools of the night we learn how life is illuminated by light, but intensified by darkness, and darken our eyes and take in the world around us through smell, touch and sound, rather than appearance, shape or colour, we may hear our true feelings. Then we unlock the gateway leading to new creative paths: by exploring who we have been, who we are and who we hope we may be, we come upon signs and wonders which illuminate our lives and may shed light for those who follow. Eva Yerbabuena

Signs and wonders brings together all of the choreographies that Eva Yerbabuena - National Dancing Prize

2001, Max Prize for the Scenic Arts 2005 and 2006, and the Andalusia Medal 2007 - has presented since she created her own company in 1998. It is a collection that uses fragments from shows like Eva (1998), 5 women 5 (2000) and The spindle of memory (2006). This look-back showcases the artistic and creative work of one of the most significant dancers on today's flamenco scene.
