La revolución (Blue Asteroid Records, 2022) is the new record of the Javier Navas Quintet, with which the group continues to develop a language of its own, an authentic voice in the context of Spanish jazz. The music of La revolución responds to an exercise of listening, of vital self-affirmation sought in the music itself and in Javier's vital and personal experiences.
Javier Navas' Quintet –in which his vibraphone unfolds with greater doses of expression and energy- embodies a visit to an authentic jazz repertoire full of modernity. Founded in 2014 and with three records in the market, the Quintet is at present one of the most stable and renown jazz groups in Spain, actively participating in events and festivals all over the country. The group performs an ample repertoire composed by Javier, buttressed in 2016 by the arrival of Enrique Oliver with the tenor saxophone to complete the front line.
