"¿How can you wonder your travels do you no good, when you carry yourself around with you? You take with you that from which you want to flee...perhaps you should change soul, not furniture or climate". All this is what Seneca defines as "a fool's paradise", and this is ours. Paradise...to the measure of one's words." Fernando Hurtado

Fernando Hurtado has had his own company for two decades. His fertile creativity has enabled him to create a large number of shows of great quality that are acclaimed by the national and international dance world.
