IX MÁLAGA CLÁSICA: TALENTOS

[MÁLAGA CLÁSICA: TALENTS]

"As a chamber music festival, and following one of the main philosophies of the genre, we understand the Málaga Clásica ought to be an event closely tied to the audience and to the city in which it is celebrated, with a reciprocal relationship in which all parts feel involved in the enjoyment of music. is is why in this VII edition we want young talents to be able to participate in this festival, giving them the opportunity to perform and to share experiences with musicians of international prestige who are invited to the festival. Those young talents, who will be chosen through an audition process by our artistic directors, will be in charge of performing in the concerts of this series and will also be the ones receiving the masterclasses programmed throughout the festival." Jesús Reina and Anna Margrethe Nilsen artistic directors
