Official presentation of Statement One, the first album of the saxophonist from Malaga Daniel Torres. In this record, Daniel, whose musical training took him from Malaga to Barcelona, Amsterdam, New York and Toronto, has brought together a group of major international jazz figures (including the famous American guitar player Peter Bernstein and the internationally renowned Spanish saxophonist Perico Sambeat) to perform his original compositions. Some of the members of this newly created group have worked with great artists such as Sonny Rollins, Brad Mehldau and Lee Konitz. "Statement One refers to a first declaration, to the fact that following a lengthy process of maturing musically and personally, this is the first time that I present my own compositions to the audience and leave evidence of this in an album."
